

Journey of Emergency Preparedness with Nicole Norris and Jameson Mailloux, Emergency Management BC

One of the things we can never predict is when an emergency will strike. History has demonstrated that it is essential to be prepared and past experiences have taught us what to prepare for. Through this time together we will be opening the floor for meaningful dialogue on five topics:

- Outreach/Networking
- Personal Preparedness
- Regional Evacuation and Lodging Plans
- Community Planning Tools
- Training and Financial Support

We are better together.

EMBC is the lead coordination agency for emergency management in the province, with a focus on mitigation, preparedness, response, and recovery. EMBC maintains 24/7 emergency coordination services through the Emergency Coordination Centre. Nicole Norris is the First Nation Strategic Partnership Coordinator for the Vancouver Island and Central Coast Regions and Jameson Mailloux is the First Nation Planning Officer in the Disaster Risk Reduction Branch with EMBC Headquarters.

Provide for the safety and health of all responders | Save lives | Reduce suffering | Protect public health | Protect critical infrastructure | Protect property | Protect the environment | Reduce economic and social losses