THE STORY OF CCP

Comprehensive Community Planning across First Nations in BC

History of Indigenous Planning

"Our oral traditions as expressed through stories reveal a rich planning tradition that encompassed all aspects of our societies." - Chris Derickson

- Indigenous law is embedded in our Creation
 Stories and tell us how to live in harmony with all beings.
- First Nations have conducted planning practices distinct to their cultures and languages since time immemorial.
- We follow seasonal rounds and holistic approaches that honour our responsibility to care for one another and all of our relations.

Comprehensive Community Planning started with us.

How CCP Started

Community-Driven Initiative:

- CCP request came from communities over multiple years of ISC-organized Joint Forums
- First Nations wanted to do planning for themselves in their own way
- In 2003, ISC brought together a group of Band Administrators to discuss and map out a way forward

How CCP Started

- 2004-2005 Pilot with 5 communities
- The journey of Okanagan, Lytton,
 Squiala, We Wai Kai (Cape Mudge)
 and Yekooche were a success
- ISC expanded funding for First Nations to engage in the CCP process including CCP workshops
- 2007 the first CCP Workshop was hosted in Vancouver

CCP Workshops

Workshop Purpose:

Bring community planners together and share best practices to support one another through the CCP journey.

- Starting in 2006 with three workshops to launch CCP province-wide
- 2023 marks the 20th BC CCP Workshop
- Every year the Workshop is hosted in a First Nation community (virtual 2020-2021)
- The workshop is comprised of community experts sharing their knowledge in various areas

Understanding the Importance of CCP for Communities

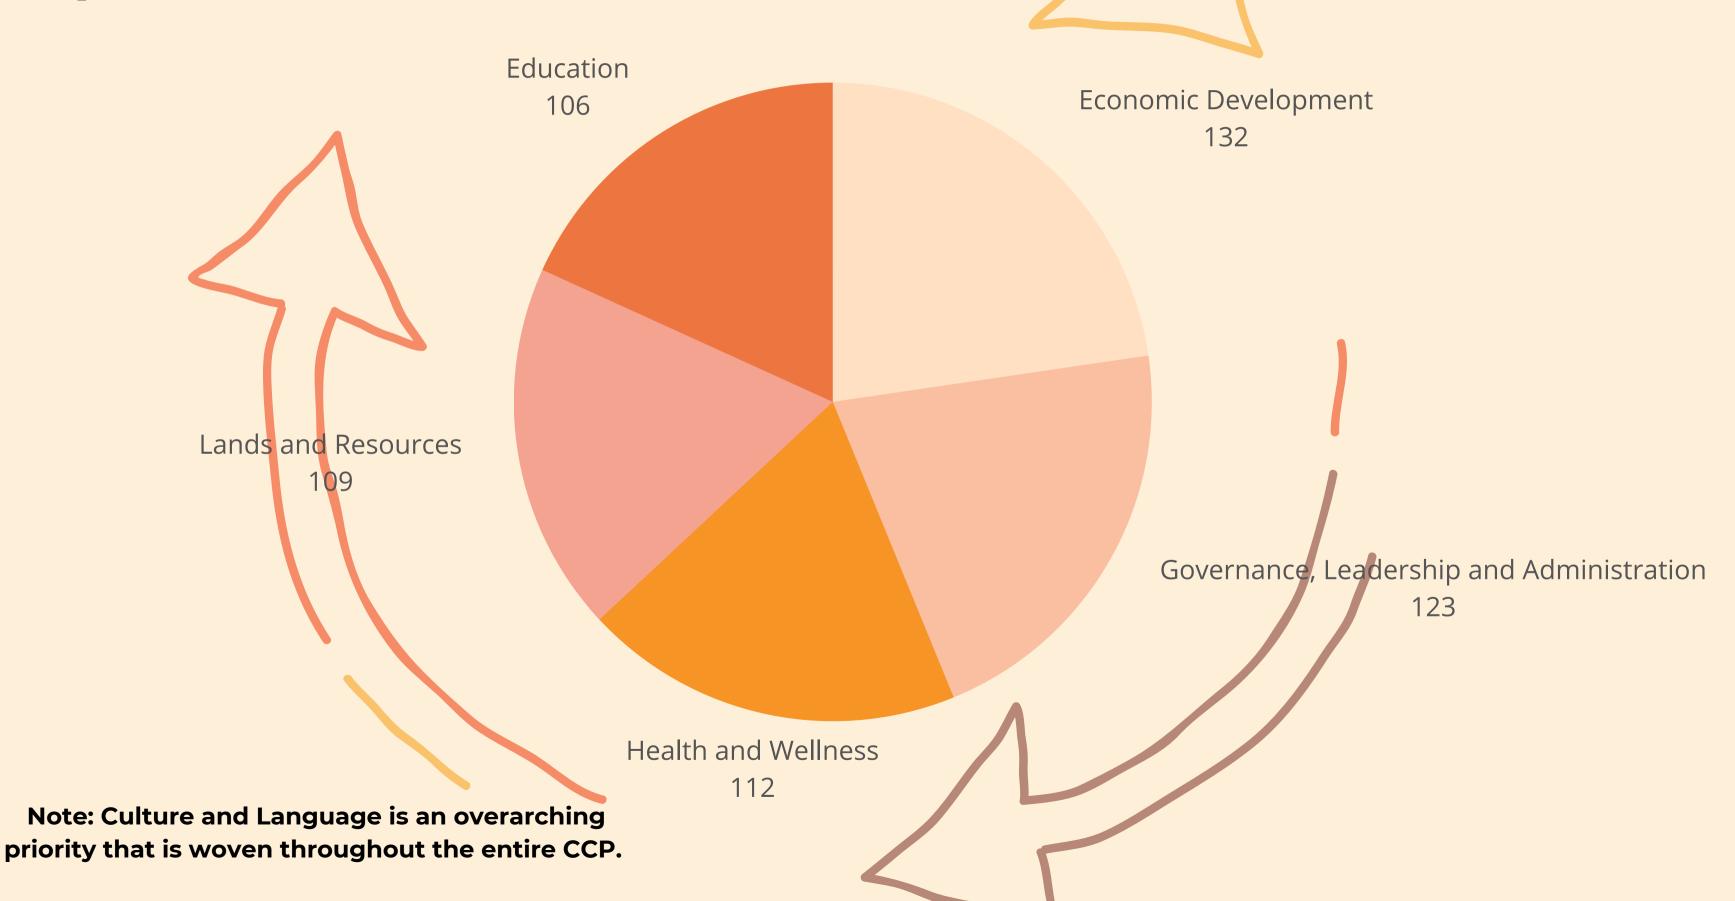

"Comprehensive Community Planning is a process that engages community members in planning and implementing the long-term vision for their community. It includes the development of goals, objectives, and actions to work towards fulfilling the vision."

- Colette Anderson

CCP is community-based, community-driven, with meaningful membership involvement throughout. Together, the community with address key areas such as education, health, social development, culture, language, governance, economic development, title and rights, and etc., as determined by the community.

Top Priorities in CCP's

CCP Mentorship Initiative

- Idea that was sparked by CCP Planners
- CCP Mentors live all over BC
- Started as 1:1 mentorship and has evolved to suit the needs of the communities
- Many of the OG Mentors are still mentors today and others have gone on to leadership or other roles

CCP Successes

- Since 2005 over 135 First Nations have embarked on the CCP process
- CCP Mentorship Initiative has been in place for 12 years
- One of the most appreciated and positively viewed ISC initiatives of all time
- CCP has expanded across First Nations in Canada

Beyond the Planning Cycle

Measurable Successes:

- Youth Centres
- Economic Development (i.e., hotels, businesses, etc.)
- Increased funding

Immeasurable Successes:

- Planning as a catalyst for community healing
- Capacity building for community members
- Community unity
- Hope for the future

Questions?